

AMBERLEY MUSEUM

The online Rail Group system.

The person who introduced you to the Rail Group should have explained that we hold our details online in an area of a website that is not accessible to people outside the group. It is protected by passwords and is not visible to Google or other search engines. It uses cookies to store minimal information, none of which is 'personal'. It may be independent of the museum for logistical reasons. It holds training and information documents, and also a calendar that shows who is booked for duties; this also holds your personal details and has a feature to send an email to selected member-groups.

We have added your basic details. Other members of the group can see your name, phone and email plus an indication of your availability for passenger duties; only website administrators can see your full information(Head of Group, Secretary and a nominated person who acts on behalf of the Group)

You or administrators can change your personal details, including user name and password. Only administrators can change your authorisations(driver,guard, etc).

There is a page of help facilities within the Roster/Calendar.

User names and Passwords are sent in separate emails. They may contain spaces and non-standard characters.

Rail Group in confidence; do not disclose this to anybody who is not a Rail Group member..

To access the website type the details sent to you into your browser's address bar(not google search area) to see a prompt for a user name and password. These general details are the same for all users. The user name is username1 in your introductory email and the password is in a separate email as pw1. That will take you to this view...
